Core Return Info

This sheet MUST be completed & returned with the core to receive credit!

Cores must be returned for credit within 30 days of receiving your Z1 Motorsports product. You must get your cores to Z1 Motorsports. How you do it is up to you. We do not cover the expense of returning them. Cores will be refunded back however the core charge was originally paid, or via store credit if you choose.

Cores will be checked / tested upon arrival at Z1 Motorsports. Cores must be complete and in rebuildable condition in order to receive credit. Partial credit may be given based on core condition, contact us for further information regarding acceptable core condition. Core charges will be refunded within 30 days of their arrival at Z1 Motorsports.

Please send your cores with shipment tracking. Retain and rely on the tracking number provided by the carrier you use to confirm that we have received your package. You will not receive notification that we have received your package until we process the cores and apply credit, which may take up to 30 days. When credit is applied to your account you will receive e-mail confirmation. Please do not contact us and ask if we have received your cores or processed your refund, unless it has been more than 30 days since we have received them. Phone representatives do not have access to core return information.

To expedite your core refund you can initiate the process by logging into your online account at www.Z1motorsports.com. Once inside you can view all your previous orders. Click on the order associated with the core you are returning. Click on the link in the Products box that says “Needs to return this product? Or a core” and follow the instructions to initiate your core return.
