UNLOCK FULL LOCK

Engineered from the ground up for precision, control, and maximum steering angle, our complete drift front suspension system transforms the 350Z into a true competition machine. It's not just a collection of parts—it's a fully integrated solution designed to push the limits of what the Z-chassis can do on track.

At the heart of the setup is our billet steel and aluminum angle kit, the key to unlocking massive steering angle. By relocating the tie rod attachment point closer to the steering pivot axis, this kit changes the steering geometry to translate the same amount of steering rack travel into significantly more wheel angle. The result is precise, predictable steering at extreme lock, giving drivers the control they need to hold aggressive drift angles.

STEERING ANGLE KIT

- ▶ Simple installation
- ▶ Allows up to 60° of steering angle
- ▶ 30% increase in steering speed
- ▶ Uses stock spindle and lower arms
- ▶ Two-position ackermann adjustment
- ▶ Includes adjustable steering stop bolts

DRIFT
PARTS

Supporting the added steering angle are our high-clearance forged steel lower control arms. Factory arms limit steering because the tires contact the suspension, but our redesigned arms open up clearance around the wheel—allowing the front tires to rotate further without interference. To keep steering geometry aligned, we developed a custom subframe that repositions the steering rack forward, maintaining proper tie rod angles and eliminating steering bind. Without this, drivers are forced to use band-aid solutions like offset rack spacers or cutting and welding their subframe.

LOWER CONTROL ARMS & COMPRESSION RODS

- ▶ Forged steel
- ▶ Improved steering angle clearance
- ▶ Double-adjusters
- ▶ Adjustable steering stop

Our forged front upper control arms add another level of adjustability and durability to the system. These arms give you the ability to fine-tune camber and caster for sharper turn-in and more consistent tire contact through long, high-angle drifts. Paired with our S-Pro True Style Coilovers—track-proven units that deliver consistent damping, responsive handling, and full ride height control—you get a suspension setup that's dialed for competitive performance right out of the box.

FORGED FRONT UPPER CONTROL ARMS

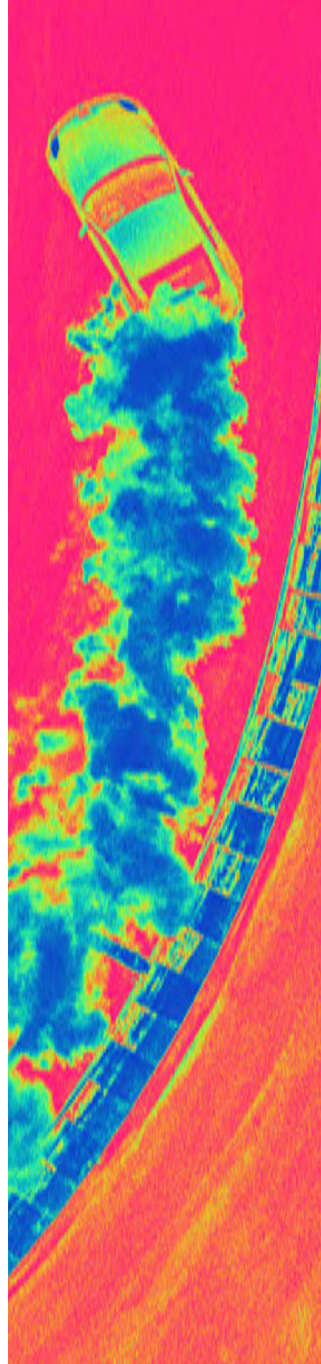

- ▶ 8.5° of caster
- ▶ 3.7° of camber adjustment range
- ▶ Fully forged aluminum body
- ▶ Stainless steel double-adjusters
- ▶ Greaseable ball joint with 60° of articulation

S-PRO TRUE-STYLE COILOVERS

- ▶ Progressive valving
- ▶ Compression/Rebound Damping
- ▶ Rubber mounts (OE characteristics)
- ▶ Rear shock adjuster extensions
- ▶ True-style rear coilover
- ▶ Monotube damper construction

Every component in this system has been engineered, tested, and refined with drifting in mind. The result is a complete front suspension package that elevates the 350Z to a whole new level—giving you the confidence to push harder, initiate faster, and control every slide with absolute precision.
